

CI 169 A Daly

First name: Alan

Last name: Daly

Q1:

Improve the existing framework to include an R classification to allow adult access to gaming material produced solely for adults, and restricted from minors by law.

Q2:

To classify material according to age suitability, and to forbid any material abhorrent or against civil and legal jurisdiction in Australia.

Q3:

Yes. Only material that is being sold in Australia whether it be electronically or physically should be classified. To attempt to classify material that is being sold outside of Australia would be overwhelming in practice and is covered by our customs service if anything illegal is brought into the country.

Q4:

no

Q5:

yes

Q6:

no

Q7:

no

Q8:

yes

Q9:

no

Q10:

no

Q11:

Q12:

Parental control, which the majority of online providers already supply, and which is included in all operating platforms. Censorship of the internet is not conducive to the society in which we regard civil liberties as a right.

Q13:

Parental control

Q14:

Parental control

Q15:

At point of sale

Q16:

there should be an independent classification board outside of any influence

Q17:

possibly, but how is that independent

Q18:

G,PG subject to complaint

Q19:

Yes

Q20:

MA

Q21:

MA should be replaced with R

Q22:

Just make the gaming classification the same as every other type of media

Q23:

yes

Q24:

none, the law is sufficient as it is with regards to censorship

Q25:

no

Q26:

classification laws should be a commonwealth law, overriding state legislation

Q27:

classification laws should be a commonwealth law

Q28:

yes, see above

Q29:

just make them universal across all media

Other comments: