Good Day

It is my belief that Schools should be able to employ people who uphold the schools values, morals, ethics AND religion. If a teacher who is not religious wants to apply to say a Catholic or Christian school, then the school has the right to deny them due to their religious or non-religious background. We as parents send our kids to specific schools because the school upholds the parents values, morals, ethics and religion. Therefore, I do not agree with the anti-discrimination act and do not support it.

Kind regards\
