Q1:

A new framework, which allows RESPONSIBLE ADULTS to self-censor, rather than having supposed 'community standards' imposed upon them. ie. ANY material which does not contain explicit illegal content should be available to adults.

Q2:

To allow adults to make their own decisions as to what legal material they are exposed to, while allowing PARENTS to control the content their children have access to.

Q3:

The platform should have NO bearing on content classification. It's just a delivery mechanism.

Q4:

Q5:

No. The material should be classified solely on its content, if it is to be classified at all.

Q6:

No. The material should be classified solely on its content, if it is to be classified at all.

Q7:

No.

No.

Q10:

No.

Q11:

None.

Q12:

Parental control of minor's access. No other control is necessary or morally acceptable.

Q13:

Only by parents/guardians. A nanny state has no place in the lives of Australians.

Q14:

Parental control of minor's access. No other control is necessary or morally acceptable.

Q15:

Always.

Q16:

Government's only role should be legislating that extremely limited class of material which should be considered illegal and subject to RC status. Determining how to classify all other material should be done by a balanced community/user comprised organisation.

Q17:

No opinion.

Q18:

None.

Q19:

When the imposition of

Q20:

Yes. None.

Q21:

The R classification should be expanded to include all legal material that is unsuitable for inclusion in a lower classification. The RC category should only include specifically illegal material.

Q22:

Q23:

Q24:

Access to NO content online should be prohibited, unless it is expressly illegal.

Q25:

RC should be VERY limited. Only material which is produced in such a way that illegality is involved should be RC. For example, filming a 'depiction' of rape isn't illegal, so it shouldn't be RC.

Q26:

Yes, by doing away with all of them.

Q27:

Q28:

Hell no.

Q29:

The only material that should ever be refused classification, are those that contain ILLEGAL material.

Morality or community standards is way too broad and imprecise a measure.
