Q2:

None. The internet should be open for all. No filtering.

Q3:

The internet should be open for all. No filtering.

Q4:

Any complaints must be fully litigated in the public court system before any action is taken. A complaint without being fully litigated is just a baseless accusation.

Q20:

Since any internet blocking would not be made public then obviously it would be poorly understood.

Trusting the government or other body isn't a logical request.

Q21:

No need.

Q22:

Don't bother with such a system.

Other comments:

The internet should be open for all. No filtering. The only enforcement should be for completely free internet access.
