

CI 1271 S Gibson

First name: Stuart

Last name: Gibson

Q1:

The ALRC should be implementing a common classification framework across all media type.

Q2:

To ensure media is restricted to the appropriate age demographic

Q3:

No

Q4:

A more thorough investigation into the contents classification should be conducted in the event of a complaint

Q5:

All currently classified media (TV, Film & Video Games) should be classified under a common system identifying the contentious matter similar to television warnings (ie. drug use or adult themes or violence). Allowing the viewer to decide whether that material is suitable for the current audience.

Q6:

No, all media should be classified

Q7:

If the question refers to traditional artworks, a warning for nudity may be appropriate.

Q8:

Yes, in order to ensure a common framework

Q9:

No

Q10:

No, whether the content is accessed at home or in public is a question of whether it is appropriate to display based on it's classification

Q11:

None

Q12:

"Are you over XXX? Yes/No" All other age gate methods are essentially asking this in a more convoluted manner.

Q13:

Parental Supervision

Q14:

Current system works satisfactorily

Q15:

When displayed publicly for sale or viewing

Q16:

Industry Bodies should self regulate, users alert government bodies of breaches, whom conduct more thorough investigations into the correct classification for the material and random audits.

Q17:

yes. see current system operating in the US.

Q18:

Industry should classify all content. Audits should be conducted regularly to ensure compliance

Q19:

Publisher should self classify based on provided guidelines. In event of mis-classification, fine the publisher

Q20:

M & MA cause confusion.

Q21:

Remove MA. Add R18+. 4 rating system covering General > Teen (Adult Themes) > Mature (Sexual Content/Violence/Drug Use) > R18+ (Nudity/Graphic Violence)

Q22:

By the government treating all media equally by legislation

Q23:

Yes

Q24:

Nil

Q25:

No. Majority of refused classification material is RC due to inappropriate classification options (ie. no R18+ for Computer Games)

Q26:

By a national body

Q27:

Self Regulating Industry Classification, to a standard defined by Federal Legislation, and audited by a federal watchdog.

Q28:

Yes

Q29:

Self Regulation

Other comments: