

CI 1421 S Cassel

First name: Stephen

Last name: Cassel

Q1:

Applying a standard classification scheme independent of media

Q2:

A consistent rating scheme applicable nation wide

Q3:

no

Q4:

no classification should be done pre release of material

Q5:

Q6:

Q7:

Q8:

yes

Q9:

Q10:

Q11:

Q12:

by limiting individual computers by those in control of the computers. No external entity, government or private, should have the ability to restrict the access of online data unless the content has been deemed illegal by law.

Q13:

By their parents.

Q14:

By those that distribute it. Sexually explicit magazines should be controlled by those stores that sell them.

Q15:

When it exceeds a General or Everybody classification.

Q16:

non-existent to minimal

Q17:

I believe that they would be more practical than current arrangements, with input from government where there have been concerns raised

Q18:

All.

Q19:

no, if it is to be subsidised I think it should be subsidised through the industry

Q20:

The different classification schemes for different media types

Q21:

yes. standard classifications across all media types.

Q22:

a single classification scheme

Q23:

yes.

Q24:

child pornography and other illegal content

Q25:

if it covers that which has been deemed illegal, yes

Q26:

yes

Q27:

a single one

Q28:

yes

Q29:

Other comments: