

CI 1474 J Denly

First name: Jon

Last name: Denly

Q1:

Depends on the amount of change deemed necessary.

Q2:

To prevent minors accessing unsuitable materials.

Q3:

No.

Q4:

Perhaps, to avoid overhead of having to classify everything.

Q5:

Yes. Media is irrelevant to classification, classification should apply on any media.

Q6:

No.

Q7:

No.

Q8:

No, the impact of audio books and music is lower than other content (visual and video content).

Q9:

Q10:

Public content should be more readily considered for classification due to increased access.

Q11:

Q12:

Cannot be done, any method is too easy to circumvent.

Q13:

Through parents exercising control of the content their children access via supervision or the use of software on their computers/phones.

Q14:

ID at point of sale.

Q15:

Q16:

Industry bodies could take responsibility for self classifying content, with sampling and oversight from government agencies.

Q17:

Potentially would ease the burden of classification, given the volume of content.

Q18:

Games, movies.

Q19:

Industries without the capacity to self classify, or where overseas classifications cannot be used as guidelines should be assisted.

Q20:

Q21:

Q22:

Q23:

Q24:

None.

Q25:

Q26:

Q27:

Q28:

Q29:

Other comments: