no

Q11:

the feasibility of classification.

Q12:

Parental Supervision. This is not feasible from a technological perspective with out destroying freedom a speech and association on the internet. Controlling Access is of greater detriment to societies values then the content that it tries to control.

Q13:

Parental supervision. Optional Filtering. Improved Education, there is already means of doing this but Parent choose to not use them and allow their children access. Charging Parents for child endangerment for failing to monitor online activity or at least holding them personally accountable like if they allowed access to alcohol.

Q14:

it is controlled enough.

Q15:

on the cover and at the beginning of content

Q16:

minimal gov't or industry regulation. Users should be able to decide and exercise the democratic freedoms to make decisions for themselves

Q17:

yes

Q18:

pornography, terrorist or illegal activities websites

Q19:

yes

Q20:

No some parent seem to think the R+18 means that they can let their kids watch it. More needs to be done to combat poor parenting as that is the root cause as opposed to Classifications. If current laws were enforced the issue would be resolved.

Q21:

No current categories are fine but they need to be better policed

Q22:

the format should be irrelevant. Digital media is Digital media what does it matter if it is being watched on a TV, PC monitor or smart phone.

Q23:

yes

Q24:

Child Porn and child abuse materials

Q25:

the Refused classification is too broad and needs to be narrowed to the specifically illegal things. Fictional Adult Sex and violence should not be refused because of the religious intolerance of some section of the community

Q26:

Federal Regulation.

Q27:

Commonwealth

Q28:

yes

Q29:

Greater focus on what is legal and less concern about the opinions of lobbyists. Complete separation of Church and State
