

CI 2244 G Nicholls

First name: Gemma

Last name: Nicholls

Q1:

A new framework, mirroring the classifications for films and DVDs.

Q2:

to make all media able to be easily judged by consumers as to intensity level of its content.

Q3:

No, all content should be classified the same way.

Q4:

Classification should be standard.

Q5:

All media should be classified.

Q6:

no, equal for all producers and distributors.

Q7:

Yes, all artworks should be classified along the same lines as other media. Whether something is 'art' or 'entertainment' will not change the chance of it causing trauma to a person if they do not know the level of impact to expect.

Q8:

Yes, all media should be classified along the same lines.

Q9:

No, all media should be classified the same way.

Q10:

No, all media should be classified the same way.

Q11:

Q12:

Q13:

free software and education provided to parents to give them the knowledge and skills to monitor their children. It should be entirely based around the computers the children use, not the websites they are accessing.

Q14:

Q15:

All the time.

Q16:

Q17:

Q18:

All content should be classified.

Q19:

Q20:

Q21:

Q22:

All media should be classified the same way and use the same classification markings.

Q23:

It needs to be changed in line with film classifications.

Q24:

Child pornography.

Q25:

Q26:

Q27:

Q28:

Q29:

Other comments: