Other comments:

i realise that making a decision this big takes time and i hope that you will be able to let all Australians 18 and older be able to buy adult video games although i can also see the other side of the argument my partner dose not want to have an R18+ and it is some thing we talk about a lot my partner is 23yo and i am 28yo and i know that she is just looking out for our 2 kids but i would like to play video games intended for gamers 18 and older i hope you make a swift decision soon and update our old system to incorporate an R18+ just like movies
