Q1:

i think that they need to overhaul the whole thing. the system they currently have is not working as they are letting some ultra violent games through yet games that are not as bad get banned or have content removed.

Q2:

to provide a rating on games that suits the game so that people can make an accurate decision on whether or not they would purchase the game, or that the game would contain suitable material for their age group and views.

Q3:

no, it should be the same as if you bought it off the shelf. because there are ways and means of confirming age and identification over the internet.

Q4:

no, all content should be classified.

Q5:

yes. but not over the top, and yes

Q6:

Q7:

yes, depending on the graphic nature of the artwork.

Q8:

yes. i think books are just as bad or even worse than games or movies as books force you to imagine the content.
