Other comments?

I had hoped your survey would be a lot more focused on battlers, not Toorak yummy mummies and Welfare women. The middle class get done over by the current system and it looks like you are keen not to achieve much on that front. After this I looked over your advisers. A Confederacy of Dunces if ever there was. Why use people who have failed in the past ? You need cross community support and fresh thinking , not failed group think. Please dont fail us again
