

SEMINAR SERIES

CORPORATE CRIMINAL RESPONSIBILITY

24, 26, 27 February, 2 March 2020

Perth | Melbourne | Sydney | Brisbane

Join fellow stakeholders to deep dive into the inquiry of Australia's corporate criminal responsibility regime prior to the completion of the ALRC's Final Report.

The ALRC is holding a series of seminars in Perth, Melbourne, Sydney and Brisbane to provide an update and to encourage additional feedback into the current inquiry. Presentations will focus on the Discussion Paper, released in November, which sought input from stakeholders about Commonwealth corporate criminal law.

The seminars will be led by a panel of judges, academics and practitioners focusing on the ALRC's proposed model of corporate regulation, the attribution of criminal responsibility to corporations and individual liability for corporate fault, while also discussing other aspects of the proposals.

The interactive seminars present the opportunity to highlight key issues identified in submissions received, indicate the ALRC's potential direction following those submissions and to seek further feedback on the position the ALRC may adopt in its Final Report.
