

ALRC Survey of Judges

Follow-up email

This email is being sent to all judges who were sent a link to the ALRC survey of federal judicial officers on judicial impartiality. As all surveys are anonymous, we do not know who has or has not completed and submitted the survey.

If you have already completed the survey, thank you very much for doing so. If you have not yet completed the survey and intend to do so, please do so before 11.59pm AEST, Tuesday, 27 April 2021. After this time the survey will close to new responses and responses to questions in partially-completed surveys will be recorded.

Please click this link to access the survey: [\[Link removed\]](#)

If you have started the survey, but have not yet completed and submitted it, you may click on the link using the same device to complete your responses.

We are aware that you are very busy people with many claims on your time, and your involvement is greatly appreciated. Your responses are essential for obtaining important information for the ALRC's inquiry into judicial impartiality.

It is important to emphasise that the information you provide will be reported in summary form in any subsequent publication or other communication. Responses to questions that ask for a written response may be quoted. Individual judges will not be identified and anonymity is assured.

If you have any questions or comments, please do not hesitate to email impartiality@alrc.gov.au.

Thank you again for your involvement in this important survey.
