I am strongly against producing babies on demand as they are a soul, a person, an individual who deserves to be protected like anyone else in society not to be commercialised and become an extension of someone else's life.

There will be class actions from a wave of surrogate babies once they are older and realise they were by order not from a natural loving relationship— we have seen this with the stolen generation, forced adoptions and voluntary adoptions, let's treat each life with respect.

There are enough needy babies waiting adoption and our government needs to be proactive in fast tracking adoption of abandoned children and unwanted babies including making adoption an option, a more attractive option than Abortion.
